- Operating revenue increased mainly in the overseas locations due to increased sales of major subsidiaries. In the domestic locations, the Group received inbound demand and rush demand before consumption tax increase. The planned figure could not be achieved due to huge impact of increase in consumption tax of domestic department stores.
- Operating income increased due to growth in revenue of major subsidiaries in addition to significant reduction in selling, general and administrative expenses mainly in domestic department stores. The planned figure was achieved largely due to growth in revenue of major subsidiaries.
- Ordinary income not only increased but exceeded the planned figure mainly due to increase in ordinary revenue. Net income not only increase but also exceeded the planned figure due to gain from sale of fixed assets, etc. in addition to the increase in ordinary income.
Performance of domestic department stores
(Takashimaya and domestic department stores subsidiaries)

Operating revenue increased due to favourable inbound demand and sales of expensive goods, as well as last-minute demand, etc. prior to consumption tax increase in the first half. The second half saw a sluggish growth as in the previous year. The annual financial results did not reach the figures of the previous year and the planned figure could not be achieved.

The operating income and ordinary income increased due to decrease in SG&A expenses mainly in rent, although the ratio of sales and product margins declined year-over-year. The planned figure could not be achieved due to unachieved planned sales and product margins.

Net income also could not be achieved as planned although huge increase in profits was seen from sale of fixed assets, etc.

- Personnel related expenses was almost as planned even through there was a YOY increase due to increase in retirement benefit costs, welfare costs, etc.

- Advertising expenses saw a YOY increase and exceeded the planned figure due to increase in point card expenses and advertising, as well as additional spending for attracting customers.

- General affairs expenses saw a YOY increase due to increase in depreciation and amortization expenses associated with acquisition of fixed assets, while on the other hand, the planned figure could not be achieved mainly due to control of repair expenses and consumables expenses.

- Accounting related expenses saw a YOY decline and below-plan result, due to decrease in rent attributable to acquisition of real estate (stores).

Takashimaya Singapore & Toshin Development Singapore

1 Singapore Dollar: Actual 83.87 JPY; Previous year 78.18 JPY; Plan 81.20 JPY

Both the operating revenue and operating income increased and exceeded the planned figures due to yen depreciation, in addition to increase in rental income due to renovation of the entire building in the previous year and good performance of specialty stores.

Takashimaya Space Create Co. Ltd. (Including Takashimaya Space Create Tohoku)

Both revenues and profits increased and exceeded the planned figures due to expansion of residential remodeling business in collaboration with department stores, in addition to good order volume in hotels and commercial facilities.
Our Management Strategy
Long-term business plans of the Takashimaya Group (FY2015 – FY2019)
The model that the Group should target

A corporate group that continues to seek true richness and constantly produces from manufacturing to urban development with a new perspective, and creates new fans through sales and service.

FY 2015
The year to embark reforms and growth
~ Act Now! ~
Long-term plan of the Takashimaya Group

Foundation of long-term plan rolling

Although the domestic economy is steadily recovering, there is a fear that it will weaken in the future due to decrease in working-age population and increase in taxes and social security burden. On the other hand, the Asian economy is likely to expand in the long and medium terms due to increase of population and income.

Our investment policy

Key investment in strategic areas such as urban development and omni channel, real estate development and creation of new sources of revenue in Japan.

Continued investment towards expansion of business in Asia, with focus on ASEAN, outside Japan.
Long-term plan: Quantitative goals

To promote operation that aims to achieve "growth" and "improve capital efficiency" by targeting an operating profit of 52 billion JPY, and at least 7% ROE and 5% ROA. At the same time, the target capital-to-asset ratio has been set at 49% to ensure a sound financial health.

Long-term plan: Basic strategy

Domestic department store business

To improve competitiveness by building a local-based business model that is oriented towards urban development for structural problems such as a decreasing birthrate with aging population and decrease in population.

To improve management efficiency through company-wide business strategy, such as creating new markets by increasing inbound demand and developing new businesses, as well as promoting omni channel.

To promote structural reforms in order to trigger consumption tax increase.

Capital policies

To respond to changes in the business environment and flexibly implement. By capital efficiency up to hike corporate value improve the management index numbers.
To raise management index by improving capital efficiency and enhance corporate value.
Recently, it was decided to purchase treasury stocks.

Shareholder return

To give top priority to a stable dividend, and on the other hand, focus on the steady implementation of growth strategies for early achievement of a consolidated operating profit of 40 billion yen.
Taking into account the level of profit to be achieved in future, the most appropriate distribution of profits to stakeholders, starting from policies for dividend amounts and shareholder returns, is to be studied.
Domestic Business
“Machi-dukuri- Community Development” Strategy
Takashimaya and Toshin Development are jointly promoting a variety of Machi-dukuri strategies.
"Maximizing value" by a wide variety of Machi-dukuri

- To increase the number of visitors coming to the stores by having the best balance of department stores and specialty stores, such as department stores alone or combination of department stores and specialty stores, according to the scale and regional characteristics.
- To contribute to the vitalization of the region and thereby increase the number of visitors coming to the town through development of surroundings of buildings and cooperation with the administration.

Maximizing Values

- Yokohama store, Kyoto store, Konandai store, Siam Takashimaya and others (Thailand, opening in 2017)
- Osaka store, Shinjuku store
  - Singapore Takashimaya Shopping center
    - Tachikawa store, Kashiwa Takashimaya Shopping Mall
    - Omiya store, Sakai store Saigon Center (Vietnam, opening in 2016)
- Nihombashi store <redeveloped>
  - (Grand opening in 2019)
- Tamagawa Takashimaya Shopping center
- Nagareyama Otakanomori Shopping center Hakata Riverain Iniminimanimo

Bold letters indicate buildings whose annual revenues are 100 billion JPY
Machi-dukuri strategy

Machi-dukuri in large stores (+ Tamagawa / Kashiwa)

Further promote the attractiveness of the stores to consolidate the revenue base

To improve the value of buildings while utilizing the know-how of Toshin Development, as well as developing the surrounding area of the stores.

< Stores where efforts have been ramped up = Shinjuku / Nihombashi / Kyoto>

Machi-dukuri in small and medium-sized stores

To improve cooperation with neighbouring facilities and the administration, and to enhance efforts in the area

To enhance cooperation in the region in order to adopt goods which are high in demand in commercial areas and functions required in the town.

- Tachikawa = To coexist with competitors through MD that is not present in the region and accumulate strong products, and improve attractiveness of the business area
- Konandai = To accumulate things and actions based on the needs of the region, strengthen cooperation with BIRDS, and improve the ability to attract customers

BIRDS: Shopping Center operating in the same building
Machi-dukuri strategy

Shinjuku store
“Machi-dukuri" by integrating department store and specialty store
