Notice Concerning the Change in the Trade Name of a Subsidiary

Takashimaya Company, Limited hereby announces that it has decided to change the trade name of Claylish Co., Ltd. (hereinafter “Claylish”), one of its consolidated subsidiaries, as described below.

Details

1. New Trade Name of the Consolidated Subsidiary

Takashimaya Clay Capital Co., Ltd

2. Date of the Change in the Trade Name

March 1, 2026

3. Reason for the Change in the Trade Name

Based on its group-wide Machi-dukuri strategy, the Group is promoting group management with the Department Store, Commercial Property Development and Finance segments serving as its growth pillars. In 2025, the Company acquired a majority of the shares in Claylish, a company involved in the corporate financing and loan business, and welcomed it as a member of the Group. This change in Claylish’s trade name will further clarify its commitment to contribute even more to improving corporate value as a member of the Group while inheriting the philosophy from the time of its founding: “To be like the soil that supports companies as they grow from saplings, to mature trees and then on to giant trees.” Under its new trade name, Claylish will enhance employees’ sense of belonging and motivation, and, through strengthening its sales capabilities, will build a stable revenue base and expand its business over the medium- to long-term. Furthermore, improving employee engagement will help to lower turnover and acquire talented personnel, and thus further strengthen its organizational foundations. This will lead to the sustainable growth of the Group.
